

iPS-LQT1

A phase-contrast micrograph showing a large, circular cell colony in the center. The colony is densely packed with cells and has a slightly darker, more granular appearance compared to the surrounding cells. The surrounding cells are more spread out and have a more typical fibroblastic morphology. The text 'iPS-LQT1' is overlaid in the top left corner.

100 μ m

Phase